NOTE: Model designation based on selling season.

Shipping weights do not include gas, oil, water or any optional equipment. These weights are compiled from all available statistics and are average weights from all plants, on which there is an allowable variation of fifty pounds.

Average road weight above is car ready for the road with gas, oil and water but no passengers, baggage, extra or optional equipment.

Factory installed accessories include Spare Tire and Tube, Bumpers, Front and Rear, Hub Cap Lock.

All Model H cars use motor number only, which will be found on the flywheel and left front motor arm.

All Model 490 cars manufactured in 1916 and until July, 1917, use motor number only, which will be found on the flywheel.

All Model 490 cars manufactured since July, 1917, have motor number on the flywheel, also serial number on nameplate on dash.

All Model F cars use motor and serial numbers the same as 490.

All Model FA, FB, D and R trucks have motor number on the flywheel and left side of the front motor support, also serial number on nameplate on dash.

All Model G trucks use motor and serial numbers the same as 490.

All Model Superior (1923) have motor number on flywheel and serial number on nameplate on the left side, if front seat frame.

All Model Superior (1924) have motor number on flywheel and serial number on nameplate on right or left side of front seat frame.

All Model Utility Express Chassis (1923-24) have motor number on flywheel and serial number on nameplate on left side of dash.

All Model Superior (Series K) (1925-26) have motor number on flywheel and serial number on nameplate on left side of front seat frame.

All Model Utility Express (Series M or R) (1925-26) have motor number on floor just forward of oil filler tube, and serial number on nameplate on dash.

All Model Superior (Series V-X) have motor numbers stamped on block back of ignition distributor on right side of motor.

CLOSED BODY PARTS SECTION

IMPORTANT

When ordering wood or sheet metal repair parts for Fisher bodies, it is necessary that the Fisher Job and Body Numbers be shown on order.

If sheet metal or wood parts are required for more than one job a separate order should be made out to cover each particular job and body number.
